

Cleveland 48 Hour Film Project - Student Body Count

Written by Terry Smith

Sunday: 7/31/2011 3pm

Movie title: Student Body Count

Sunday: 7/31/2011 2pm

Had a great time shooting yesterday at four locations. Not sure what name the director is giving it yet. Will be shown at Cedar-Lee on Wednesday 7 pm with group of other short films, 9 or 10 of them, $9. Don't really like horror genre but we all gave it our best. Crew kept saying I was creepy, imagine that.

Friday: 7/29/2011

Will be 'doing a film' this weekend as part of the 48Hour Film Project. Our team's leader, trained at Virginia Marti College of Design, had to pick out of a hat and selected 'Horror' genre. So we're off and rolling!

See the link to the Vimeo film below, done by Virginia Marti College of Design \(Lakewood, OH\) students where I play Dr. Taylor. This project was our team's entry in this year's Cleveland's 48 Hour Film Project competition. Each team is given a genre and a few other requirements and given 48 hours to make a complete movie. We didn't really want 'Horror', but we ran with it and made it more of a dark comedy.

<http://vimeo.com/27319684>

Cleveland 48 Hour Film Project - Student Body Count

Written by Terry Smith
